Where did the idea come from?

Hang & Level was invented by interior decorator, Liette Tousignant, and her husband, Kelly Krake, of Calgary.

One of Liette's most challenging and time-consuming decorating tasks was hanging artwork. Hanging pieces perfectly without creating extra holes in walls was a problem and had Liette looking for a tool that could help her do the job right - the first time. Realizing that no such tool was available, Liette and Kelly invented Hang & Level – the solution to the picture-hanging problem!

Liette is originally from Nicolet, Quebec and is fluent in both French and English.
